Build a central hub for faculty information
Centralize faculty teaching data and credentials in one intuitive system. Thoughtful data entry tools like imports and integrations make uploading a breeze for faculty and administrators, ensuring this valuable information stays up-to-date. Say goodbye to the endless data hunt — once gathered, your faculty activity data is available in one reportable place, instead of numerous filing cabinets, thumb drives, or inboxes.

A new module to follow faculty career trajectories
Bring your faculty handbook to life with visual representations of your institution's career tracks — giving new transparency to both faculty and administrators. Our Career Pathways module helps faculty gain clear visibility into tasks and milestones to inform conversations with their supervisors and drive their careers forward. Build reusable templates and automated processes that reduce errors and save you hours of wasted time. Easily tailor these templates to fit college and department timelines. Automatically incorporate policy and handbook versioning so that any differences between revisions are reflected accurately for each faculty member's career track.

Capture, confirm, and report faculty credentials
Faculty Success comes preloaded with tools to tie degrees, accomplishments, and other credentials together to show how each faculty member is qualified to teach their courses. Run credentials through your institution's review and approval process. Then, report your roster of faculty qualifications with pre-built templates designed for your accreditor.
